FROM MEXICO.

The French in the City of Mexico-Proc mations of Forey-Appointment of a Provisional Government-Arrival of Re-enforcements for the French Army. From Our Own Correspondent.

By the British Royal Mail steamer Trent, which arrived on the morning of the 16th, we have dates from Vera Cruz to the 1st, and from Mexico to the 26th. We get little news. Several proclamations have been issued by Forey, the tools immediately mader his surveillance, and by President Juarer and his Government. Juarer, finding that he could not defend the city against the advancing French forces, having only 6,000 soldiers, after causing the defenses to be destroyed as well as the arms and ammunition he could not take with him, retired to San Luis Potosi, where he was followed by all these foldiers, and which city he declared to be the capital. There the Government has formed and issued edicits and proclamations. Ere leaving Mexico, Juarer called upon the representatives of the different nations to arm their respective citizens, praying them to preserve order, &c., during the time elapsing between his departure and the city of the French.

Large crowds collected in various parts of the city on the 1st of June, and finally united before the Post-Office, and there were addressed by Gen. Bruno Arguillar, and at 5 p. m. the general nigging of the French.

All corporations ceased to exist, and Gen. Salas became Givil and Military Chief. Formit of the French troops entered the city on the 9th, and the acclamations of the multi-tande, composed principally of foresigners. On the 1th the General-in-Chief (Forey) accompanied by Almonte and Saligny, tool part in the procession of Corpus Christi.

The first decree, bearing date of June 11, was the prohibition of the use of all praying presses, until they should be placed under the ceasorship of the French; and the publication of any pamphlator book—save the Boletia Officeal. Next came a proclamation of the firm done has the double object of causing the weight of the arms of France to be felt by hereasing and of offering to Maxico the colors and of the Capital and Saligny. Love present the colors of the color of the colors, and the procession of the color of the color of the HAVANA, July 11, 1863. By the British Royal Mail steamer Trent, which that his "mi sion has the double object of causing the weight of the arms of France to be felt by her ensmises, and of offering to Mexico the cooperation of France in adding it to establish a government of its own election—a government which shall put in practice justice, probity, and good faith, in all its foreigh relations. The French victories have accombished the first object, and now the second must be paired out; "and, after giving considerable advice, be winds up with an invocation to all "intelligent properly to lay down their arms and join him in his good work. "But, I declare to be enemies to their contry those who show themselves deaf to my contentification of the winds are properly voice, and I will pursue them wherever they may hide themselves." This refers to Juacz, spanking of whom, he says: "If he has any doubt as to the general reprobation of which he is the object, the 10th of June, 1863, which belongs to historically and the subscribers good news, published it. I find that the general opinion is, that judgment should sto the general reprobation of which he is the object, the 10th of June, 1863, which belongs to history (?) should remove all his illusions, and make.

In U. S. transport Continental passed Key West The Gen. Dix, and sent word to the Admiral that Gens. The Gen. Dix, and sent word to the Admiral that Gens. All this was reported here, and The Siglo, which has been so true to the Union, and always anxious passed in the city balls of fashion it receives the subscribers good news, published it. I find that the general opinion is, that judgment should be contracted with passengers. The subscribers good news, published it. I find that the general opinion is, that judgment should be continued by the Rosanoke. It seems "to good to be true."

The steamer America, formerly the Cuatzscualius, has just come in crowded with passengers. Sold everywhere.

the control of the price of the price of the correct of the correc are prohibited. The penal code will be the same us that used in France. All sales of property since the 16th of June are declared null and void, as they might interfere with the Sequestration act. This applies to all cities or places occupied by the French

Decree No. 12 declares all persons who form portion of the bands of brigands (goerrilas) to be without the pale of the law. When caught they are to be tried by Court-Martial, from whose decision there is no appeal, and the section whose decision there is no appeal, and the section whose decision there is no appeal, and the section whose decision there is no appeal.

cision there is no appeal, and the sentences are to be carried out within twenty-four hours. Decree No. 13.—A proclamation from Gen. Forey announcing the election by the Supreme Council announcing the election by the Supreme Council (whom he appointed with this understanding) of Geo. Almonte—the Archbishop of Mexico (who was kicked out by the people some time-since), Labastida and Gen. Salas to take charge of the executive power, till the establishment of a final power, says: "The names I have justiced are well-known to you (!); they enjoy the public esteem, and all due respect, owing to the many services rendered, and to you (!); they enjoy the public esteem, and all due respect, owing to the many services rendered, and so the honor of their characters. Rest tranquil, therefore, as I do, in regard to the future which is to be prepared for you by this triumvirate, which will assume the reins of Government on the 24th of June." This is the impartiality promised. When all this was prophesied the French papers were very indignant and denied it. Poor Mexico! On the 25th, the City Government was insalled. General Almonte pronounced before a crucifix, the following words: "The members of the Executive swear to fulfill faithfully and strictly the duty confided to Almone pronounced before a crucial, the following words: "The members of the Executive swear to fulfill faithfully and strictly the duty confided to them, to defend the independence and sovereignty of the nation, to insure order and peace, and in all things to seek the common benefit."

shings to seek the common benefit."

Justez has decreed that all persons who unite with or favor Forey shall be declared traitors, and Forey has decreed that all who do not shall be so considered. In either case, their property is o be confiscated, as no neutrality is allowed.

On the 29th, Forey was to give a grand ball in the National Theater, to which we are told "all families have been invited without distinction as to political color."

Several transports have arrived in Vera Cruz with reduforcements—artillery, cannon, and ammunition.

The transport Entreprenante brought several companies of artillery and engineers. Gen. Courtois D'Hurbal has arrived to fill the place of Gen. Janvier, killed at Puebla. One hundred, and ten officers came with him.

officers came with him.

Forey bas in all things carried the power of might to the fulfillment of his designs. Forey has in all things carried the power of might to the Iuliillment of his designs, as I have several times written you would be the case. Almonte has been raised to the head of power in Mexico, called for the nonce "Provisional President," and in the coming elections, with the help of French bayonets, will be elected President of the Mexican Republic, and then the rest of the programme will be carried out. Grateful to the French for their protection than far, or in fear of its withdrawal, Almonte hill, "in the name of the Nation," sign anything acknowledge the expenses of the invasion as a national dabt, sign away Sonora, &c.e., in fact, do whatever Gen. Forey, counseled by that arch-fieud Baligny, may dictate. This will all be accomplished so easily that Napoleon will be at liberty to "carry tivilization" to the United States, and, entering Texas, recognize the South, and with offensive and essentive treaties declare war upon the American hation. Many laugh at all thus, but Frenchmen are of sound intellect declare this to be Napoleon's lim, and boast that he will carry it out.

There is an incident in Mexican affairs which I ware not seen published in our papers here. My authority is the French Consul at Zacatocas, now here, who left Havana on the 23d. Gens. Ortega and La Llave leit Guanajuato for San Luis Potosi on the 15th alt., escorted by 600 troops of that State. On the 18th, Gen. Ortega, with the Chief of Escort, was riding some distance in advance of the party, when, hearing firing, they looked back and saw that a part of the escort had mutinied, and that they had shot Gen. La Llave. The Chief returned immediately to his command, while Ortega spurred on. The mutineers were put down and Gen. La Llave picked up, but so wounded that he was not expected to live. In this state he was taken to San Luis Potosi, and when Mr. La Croix (the French Consul to Zacatecas) left, no hopes were entertained of his recovery. This attack was by some thought to have been instigated by Doblado, but few honorable men believed it of him, and the general opinion was that, supposing these Generals carried considerable treasure, robbery was the object of the mutineers.

FROM HAVANA.

The Political Governor of the Island Sus pended and sent to Spain-Arrival of the Evening Star. From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, July 11, 1863. On Monday last as you will see by the official organ, The Gaceta I send you, Sr. Navascuez, the Political Governor of the Island was "suspended" and is to be sent to Spain. Of course there are vaious rumors as to the cause; that most generally believed, I find is, that a letter purporting to have been written in this city, and published in Madrid. The Captain General is accused of having received bribes for allowing the landing of slaves belonging to Zulueta, and many charges are made; that on reading this the Captain General sent for Navascuez, showed him the letter, and ordered him to either write an official letter and have it published in the same paper or to resign his office. Report goes on to say

Cars. so companied by special agents, leave Boston, New-York, Buffalo, and Philadelphia, for the points of demand, as often a supplies accumulate in sufficient quantities. Special arrange ments are made to prevent delay in their movements with th railroad companies and with the Government. The supplies are distributed by the experienced agents of the Commission Their seal in reaching the points where other aid cannot be depended on is indicated by the fact that in the present cam paign three agents of the Commission have been captured by the enemy's cavalry in pushing succor to exposed points The wagons of the Commission, under the superintendence of Mr. Hosg, visited the collections of wounded on the field of Gettyeburg while the battles of the 2d and 3d instant were n progress, and hours before supplies reached them from The Commission is acting in lite manner in all other fields

ent to the column of Gen. Banks in Louisiana. Much more han that to those of Gen. Grant and Gen. Rosecrans. At this moment the Commission is issuing goods to the value of at least twenty thousand dellars (20,000) a day. A work of this character end magnitude can only be sustained by the constant, systematic co-operation of a great number of auxillary societies, and by frequent contributions from all who appreciate its beneficence. To such the barest statement re minding them of the facts, and of the well-known policy of the Commission, can only be required. It is only asked that the present occasion may be taken to establish a more complete adoption of the system of the Commission by the con section of individuals with existing societies co-operation with the Commission, by enforcing more steady, regular and systematic methods of collecting and transmitting contribuions, and by establishing a conviction of the folly of spas nodic efforts in a work of this kind. Hundreds will owe their lives this week to those who did not hold their hand when there was no special public excitement, by which the Commission had stores ready at Frederick, Baltimore and Washington; and reserves at Philadelphia, New-York and Boston. These who wish to cordially co-operate with the on will now go to work as if we were just entering upon a long war, and with no thought of its ending. A momentary enthusiasm is not desired, but the Commission offers its agency to all who wish to steadily contribute to the relief of the sick and wounded, and to the comfort of the army, by uch means and methods as experience leads it to adopt, unti the Rebels are conquered, and the volunteer army disbanded which last, under no circumstances, can possibly occur for long time to come. Let these who have not begun to work systematically for the army begin now. Let those who have been working steadily become more steadfast and orderly in their work.

All individual contributions should, when practicable, nade to local societies. It is unnecessary to ask what is especially needed—common sense will find what is useful to the care of the sick and wounded men; an excess of any or dinary class of articles cannot occur.

Societies should endeavor, as much as possible, to make regular shipments to the depote, at which alone goods can be ssorted, arranged and shipped in exact accordance with the semand of the army at different points.

The number of these depots cannot be increased, and good annot be received otherwise than through them, without auring unnecessary expense and trouble to the Commissi nor without a diminution of their value. For instance, those who have lately sent their goods to Washington, without orders in many cases, may now force the Commission to hold hem idle or to ressort and repack and retransport them Northward, when, quite possibly, they consist of good especially called for at this moment in Boston or New-York or Louisville for transmission to Port Royal, Port Hudson or Vicksburg. Letters and contributions may be sent to either of the points, with simple reference to the greatest convenience and economy of doing the common work: Boston, New-York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Gleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Chicago, Louisville.

Contributions may be made to GEORGE T. STRONG, Treasured No. 68 Wall-st., and No. 823 Broadway, New-York. Rev. H. W. BELLOWS, President.
